Wolves Summit is coming back to Warsaw in October

Innovation in technology is a topic that doesn't seem to leave the top of the trending page. The startup ecosystem around the world, Poland included, is developing at a satisfying pace. It comes as no surprise then that many international conferences emerge from the success of this business ecosystem. But in the ocean of them, there is one that has managed to provide an incredible, quality experience that, above all, is highly relevant in the tech environment; Wolves Summit.

The 8th edition of Wolves Summit is coming back to Warsaw, Poland on 23-24 October 2018. It's the best quality international networking conference for startups, investors, and corporates.

The co-organized by the city of Warsaw conference offers a unique opportunity to meet 300 startups, 200 investors, and 300 corporates and executives of the global tech ecosystem, all in one place. Thanks to the precise matchmaking tool available before and during the conference, participants will have the chance to schedule over 3000 well-matched 1:1 meetings with those relevant to their business needs. During previous editions, attendees have set up 18980 such meetings, this part of the event is the key element of why many top players of tech environment have been coming back to Wolves Summit and have permanently inscribed the event in their calendars.

Top players of the innovative world

One of the inseparable elements of Wolves Summit is the Main Stage, where all the key notes and panel discussions happen. This edition the speaker line-up is undoubtedly impressive. The event will be focusing on several industries and emerging topics including Blockchain, Augmented Reality, Virtual Reality, Artificial Intelligence and Hardware. Some of the speakers that you might expect to share their ideas, stories and knowledge are Rudradeb Mitra, an AI expert who has built 6 startups in 4 countries and has over 9 years of experience in building AI and Machine learning products, Evren Ay, the founder of MotaWord - the world's fastest human translation platform and Basia Nasiorowska.

A wolf-shaped turning point

Being dedicated to innovation in technology, Wolves Summit provides startups with many possibilities to gain leverage, boost their growth and spread their impact throughout the global stage. One of the opportunities for the tech entrepreneurs is the Great Pitch Contest where the best selected startups will get a chance to pitch their ideas in front of the investors and partners. This edition Wolves Summit is partnering with Fenox Venture Capital to invite the winner of the Great Pitch Contest to the Grand Finale of Startup World Cup in San Francisco where they will have the possibility to win the grand investment prize worth $1 000

000. Also, for all the Great Pitch Contest finalists, StartupJobs.pl will provide annual free publishing of job offers on the site and possible further media exposure. Wolves Summit is going to finish with an Central European Startup Awards, an Award Show created for the startup ecosystem to gather, have fun and enjoy the accomplishments and celebrate the wins of fellow entrepreneurs. The gala is the region's biggest no-pitch no-conference startup festival with the aim to inspire, stimulate and recognise entrepreneurship throughout Central Europe whilst connecting a community of startup enthusiasts to an entire ecosystem of collaborators and supporters at all levels.

Contacts above all

The Wolves Summit conference gathers the representatives of many environments, including corporations, investors, and promising startups from around the world. 1:1 meetings are one of the most important elements of the event. Participants can schedule 15-minute conversations with relevant people before the conference even begins. It allows them to pack their calendars and match the interlocutors to certain criteria.

The eighth Wolves Summit conference is taking place in Warsaw, Poland on 23-24 October 2018. Up to 1500 people from over 60 countries are expected to participate. Additional information about the event and participation opportunities are available on the website: www.wolvessummit.com.
